

A

SOUTH AFRICA
ROCHA

Conservation and Hope

You are invited to hear
Peter Harris - Founder of A Rocha

“What has Faith got to do with the environment?”

Date: 29 November 2014

Place: Intaka Island, Park Lane
Century City

Time: 09:00 for 09:30 - AGM to follow talk

RSVP: Carl Swart 082 908 9825
cjswart@kaapkerk.co.za by 24 Nov 2014

Snacks will be served. Booking Essential
A collection will be taken to cover costs

www.arocha.org

Also on Facebook

Peter Harris

After working as an English teacher at Christ's Hospital, and then as an Anglican clergyman near Liverpool UK, Peter and his wife Miranda moved to Portugal in 1983 to establish and run A Rocha's first field study centre and bird observatory. In 1995 the work was given over to national leadership and they moved to France where together with national colleagues they oversaw the establishment of two other centres while travelling to resource the growing movement of Christians active in nature conservation.

A Rocha field projects are now operational in twenty countries worldwide. Peter is now based in UK and his work has a particular focus on emerging projects in SE Asia and the USA. The story is told in Peter's books Under the Bright Wings (Regent College Publishing, 2000), and Kingfisher's Fire (Monarch, 2008)